

Human Rights Academy Update Report
October 19, 2020

We have made a lot of progress.

The HRA Committee has tentatively scheduled the fall Human Rights Academy event for either Nov 18th or 25th. (11th not possible due to Veterans Day) The format will be either Zoom or Google Classroom with breakout sessions. If it is the latter, we will ask Cape Cod Academy to co-host.

The primary presentations will be John Lewis v Kwame Touré and an interactive training session on bystander training, microaggression, implicit bias, or some other similar topic. We are presently attending several programs under consideration including a program on social and racial justice by Team Harmony that starts tomorrow, and a program on Implicit Bias that starts on the 28th. If anyone is interested in attending them, please let us know.

We are also looking for volunteers to attend the breakout groups from the different schools during the Academy. If you are willing to volunteer, please let Trish know.

Regards,
Wendy Bierwirth
